RECEIVER SMITH COMPLETES HIS REPORT

ON U. S. SHIPBUILDING COMPANY

Says Promoters Gave Nothing for the Stock—The Report is Now Ready for Filing.

New York, Oct. 28.—J. Pierpont Morgan, Charles M. Schwab, Colonel J. J. McCook and others are arraigned severely by Receiver James Smith Jr., in his report on the United States Shipbuilding company's affairs which is completed for filing with United States Circuit Judge Kirkpatrick in Trenton today.

Receiver Smith states that Charles M. Schwab, J. Pierpont Morgan, Herbert Satterlee, Morgan's son-in-law, and several vendors or controlling owners of constituent companies, received bonds and stock for which no equivalent was ever paid the United States Shipbuilding company.

His report charges that Schwab and Morgan alone received $20,000,000 preferred and common stock for which they rendered absolutely no equivalent. He strongly recommends that all such holdings be assessed at a fair estimate on their face or market value. He also characterizes as reprehensible the Morgan-Schwab-Harris-Gates $20,000,000 of Morgan and Schwab preferred and common Shipbuilding stock was to be marketed in advance of other outside securities.

Receiver Smith goes so far as to intimate strongly that Charles M. Schwab was acting simply as an agent for the Steel trust when he paid $7,200,000 for the Bethlehem plant. The receivership report specially italicizes the manner in which J. Pierpont Morgan dominated C. M. Schwab as well as others in the shipyard promotion in forcing the purchase of the Bethlehem plant for $10,000,000 first mortgage gold bonds—a lien on the Bethlehem plant—and $20,000,000 preferred and common United States Shipbuilding stock. Says the report on this point:

"There can be no question as to the dominance of a certain financial force (J. P. Morgan) in instructing Charles M. Schwab to raise his price of $10,000,000 in bonds which previously had been raised from $9,000,000 cash to $20,000,000 for a property which said C. M. Schwab had recently purchased for $7,200,000."

It is reasonable to suppose that the original owner or owners of the Bethlehem Steel company appraised the plant at a fair value when it was sold to the United States steel interests. So that more than $20,000,000 of the purchase price paid such interests by the United States Shipbuilding company must be regarded as fictitious.

"In order to secure $2,000,000 additional capital, the advocates of the Sheldon reorganization plan—its authors being Chairman George R. Sheldon, Charles S. Fairchild, John E. Borne, Max Pam and Charles W. Wetmore—made the astonishing proposition that the $14,500,000 first mortgage bond issue be converted into preferred and common stock.

New York, Oct. 28.—David Weisenberg, the traveling salesman, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the murder of Miss Mabel Bechtel, of Allentown, Pa., surrendered himself at police headquarters early this morning. At an early hour this morning two bodies had been recovered and others were seen in the wreckage. The cause of the disaster is not known, as the details are difficult to secure.

After his wounds had been dressed, the prince attended a public reception in this city.

WILL PASS THROUGH NEWARK EN ROUTE HOME.

Date of Departure from New York Not Yet Known—Attack Made on Christian Science.

B. & O. officials learned this morning that "Elijah" Dowie will pass through Newark on his way back to Zion City from New York. The date of Dowie's departure from the metropolis is not yet known.

New York, Oct. 28.—Dowie took occasion in his talk to his audience to denounce Christian Science, declaring Christian Science is neither Christianity nor science.

Mrs. Eddy's book he declared, was "inconsistent with the first elements of good sense."

"The only possible charm in the book," he continued, "seems to be that it is impossible to understand. There is one grain of truth in Christian Science. It teaches that disease does not come from God."

"As for the argument of Scientists that there is no such thing as feeling, tasting or smelling, except in the imagination of persons, it is all bosh."

Dowie concluded by saying that Christian Science "undermined common honesty and veracity in the human mind."

The evening meeting was largely attended and perfect order was maintained. Dowie talked on "Theocracy," which he predicted would in 10 years sweep the country, meaning that the rule of God would then be supreme. In conclusion he invited those in need of comfort to remain and talk with the elders. Some hundreds stayed.

Operations were suspended at every colliery in the Seranton section this morning. Work will not be resumed till November 4. Sixty thousand miners are idle.

NEW RECORDS ON THE TRACK

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 28.—Dan Patch (1:36 1-4), within 45 minutes elapsed time, Tuesday afternoon, smashed two world's records in succession on the track of the Memphis Trotting association. First he went against the world's half-mile pacing record of 57 1-2 seconds, held by Prince Alert, and clipped a second and a half from the record, negotiating the distance in 56 seconds flat. Next he hung out a new world's record for a mile pacing to wagon, making the mile in 1:57 1-4, two seconds better than the time of 1:59 1-4, which he made at a recent meeting on the Lexington (Ky.) track, the world's record until yesterday afternoon. Major Delmar, E. E. Smathers' two-minute trotter, was also sent to lower his own record, and won. He cut a quarter of a second from the two-minute mark, making the mile in 1:59 3-4. The quarter was made in 0:30, the half in 1:00 and three-quarters in 1:29 3-4. In making the half mile pace against time, Driver Myron McHenry started from the wire and breezed Dan Patch around to within a short distance of the half mile pole, where two runners to sulkies were picked up, the forward sulky carrying the customary canvas dust strip. The three horses swept by the pole and McHenry gave the signal that the trial was a go. Starter Newton dropped the red flag and the watches of the timers were set in motion to catch the new record for a half mile. The quarter was made in 0:28 1-2, and the pacer dashed under the wire with the hands of the timers' watches sharp on the mark of 0:56. The demonstration from the grand stand was quite as enthusiastic as those which have been given Dan Patch.

OF ALLENTOWN, PA., ARE EXPECTING DEVELOPMENTS

In the Mysterious Murder of Mabel Bechtel, Whose Dead Body Was Found Tuesday.

Allentown, Pa., Oct. 28.—The police are most reticent as to what has been done in the case of the murder of Mabel Bechtel whose body was found in the alley near her home yesterday morning. It is known, however, that they are not by any means idle and developments are momentarily expected. The surrendering of David Weisenberg to the New York police and his story to them that he had not seen the girl on the day on which she was murdered, has added much mystery to the case and efforts are now being made to substantiate or disprove his statements. His arrival in Allentown is awaited with much interest, as should he be eliminated from the case, as many of his friends believe he will, the police will have to look elsewhere for information. Alfred Eckstein the girl's fiancée and her brother, who were summoned by the police yesterday, were released after a close examination.

Springfield, O., Oct. 28.—Alice Cole, who was arrested charged with throwing vitriol into the face of Crystal Little at Villa, this county, has been released. The case against her was withdrawn last evening by the Little family. C. E. Little, the grandfather of Crystal Little, lies at the point of death at his home, with his mind tottering. The family says he has received anonymous letters two and three times every day since the assault to the effect that if he continued his prosecution of the case he would be killed. The letters state that he must drop, not only the case against Alice Cole, but against any one else that may in the future be suspected of complicity in the affair.

At first Alice Cole stated she would not permit the case to be withdrawn and her attorney made a hard fight to have the Little family continue the prosecution. Now she declares she declares she will bring a heavy damage suit against the family.

"The visit is the result of a formal entente between French Foreign Minister Delcasse and Count Lamsdorf. According to this they will meet once every year and thus keep the two countries in close touch with each other. In 1901 they met at Compiègne; in 1902 in St. Petersburg, and this year in Paris. Finally, the girl became tired of her toy and threw it on a stone heap, where it was found. Doctors who have examined Pauline declare that her mental condition is normal.

YOUTHFUL LOVERS LOCATED IN FAR OFF VANCOUVER

A telegram to The Advocate on Monday from Vancouver, B. C., this week told of the arrest of Clarence Leonard, a bank messenger, and "Kittie Wells," in whose stocking the police found eight $1,000 bills. It is believed the young woman was Katherine Miller. The story of the mysterious disappearance of these youthful lovers is told in the following Advocate special today from New York:

New York, Oct. 28.—With all the modern facilities the metropolitan police can call to their assistance to prevent escape arraigned against them, Clarence Leonard, a bank messenger, and Katherine Miller, a beautiful girl of East Orange, N. J., disappeared from sight two weeks ago. With them $10,000, secured on checks, said to have been forged, disappeared.

Leonard was employed by a large firm and was accustomed to transact business with various local banks, so that when he presented checks calling for large amounts on the day he disappeared, nothing was thought of it and he received the money.

Within 20 minutes the forgeries were discovered, chiefly through the suspicion of the paying teller, who called up Leonard's employer. Within half an hour after the checks were cashed every depot, ferry and means of leaving the city were watched, but without avail.

Leonard is 19. Katherine Miller is 22, and has been a leader in East Orange's most exclusive society. The young people lived within a few doors of each other. Since last August, when he saved her pet setter from two bull terriers, Leonard has been the young woman's sweetheart.

The attachment between the two finally aroused the wealthy parents of the young woman. The boy was madly in love with the patrician's daughter and the parental objections to his attention caused her to withdraw from society completely.

Leonard was in earnest. He fretted because he had little chance for promotion. The night before he disappeared he was with her until 11 o'clock, and it is supposed the elopement plans were laid then. Miss Miller was engaged to be married to a prominent society man of East Orange, and her flight with Leonard furnished mystery and scandal enough to wag all the tongues in New Jersey. Now the dispatches say they have been captured at Vancouver, thousands of miles away. They had over $2,000 left.

Guanajuato, Mexico, Oct. 28.—Great excitement was caused here by an attempt on the life of President Diaz, who was the guest of the state government during the festivities here. The president, his staff and guests were passing by the Cantor garden in a street car when a man of the lower class named Ellis Toscano approached the car, shouting and fired from a revolver at the car. None of the shots took effect.

Pablo Escandon, of the presidential staff, rushed out of the car and caught the man, wrenching the revolver from his grasp. The police took Toscano to prison. The matter will be investigated.

RUN

Continues on St. Louis Banks

Long Lines of People Much Excited

THROGGED ABOUT THE BANKS THERE TODAY.

BANKS PAID VERY PROMPTLY

Tuesday Afternoon, But Today Demanded Usual Notice—St. Louis Institutions Sound.

St. Louis, Oct. 28.—When the doors of the Mississippi Valley and Mercantile Trust companies were thrown open this morning long lines of depositors were in waiting, anxious to withdraw their funds, the scare resulting from Tuesday's run not having died out. Most of those in line were workmen and women. Each was told that 30 to 60 days' notice of the intention to withdraw deposits would be required. No money was paid out, but a declaration of intention to withdraw was made by many. Financiers say the books are perfectly sound and that the scare is senseless.

At the Mercantile Trust Bank fifteen police could not keep order and the crowd surged by and into the building. It is declared that the whole trouble was started by malicious rumors of eastern speculators. The St. Louis clearing house association is backing the banks and New Orleans, New York and Chicago promises all the money needed to check the run. At 12 o'clock the crush became so great at the Mercantile, Mississippi Valley and Lincoln Trust companies' offices that the doors were locked and only a few at a time were permitted to enter. Very little money is being paid out.

Banks Paid Promptly

St. Louis, Oct. 28.—As wired The Advocate yesterday, a run was started on three financial institutions yesterday afternoon, but all demands were promptly met by the banks.

As soon as the runs started all other business was laid aside and every facility was afforded for the prompt payment of deposits.

The clauses which gives the banks the privilege of withholding payment until sixty days after notification was waived and amounts were paid regardless of their size. False rumors started the runs.

WHERE PYTHIANISM HAD ITS ORIGIN.

WHERE PYTHIANISM WAS BORN.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 28.—Few persons outside the Knights of Pythias know of the birth of this order. Perhaps many knights do not know much about the earliest history except that the founder was Justus Henry Rathbone and that in 1864 the ritual of the order was first read.

As the birthplace of Pythianism, a little frame school house in Eagle Harbor, Keweenaw county, Michigan, is the mecca for all Pythians that visit the famous copper country. Pythianism has in copperdom an historical significance that it can have in no other part of the country, for the reason that in the school house, now weather-beaten, racked by storms, and prey to relic hunters, Rathbone taught the youngsters their three Rs in the early '60s. For years the school house was cared for, for the sake of its associations, but today it is in despair.

Justus Henry Rathbone was greatly impressed with the fidelity and friendship of Damon and Pythias. He decided to write the ritual of a secret order to be named the Knights of Pythias, to be founded on naught but the purest and sincerest motives, its aim to alleviate the suffering of a brother, succor the unfortunate, zealously watch at the bedside of the sick, soothe the dying, perform the last sad rites at the grave of a brother, offering consolation to the afflicted, and caring for the widow and orphan.

"Having these principles in view, its members will endeavor to exemplify them by practical tests, and if by the grace of God, I shall successfully carry out this object, they will feel that their mission was not in vain."

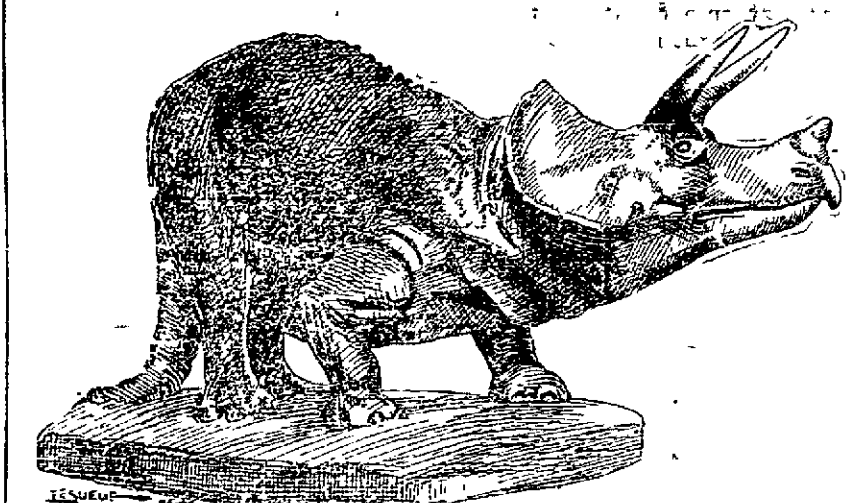

A lover of mankind, inspired to noble deeds by the story of the schoolmaster, laborer on his ritual in spare moments at Eagle Harbor. Only one other person knew what he was doing. This was his room-mate, who by the way, rather discouraged that encouraged the work. Rathbone worked sedulously and when he had finished his task, he had framed a ritual which is said to be the most beautiful of all secret society rituals.

Once founded the order has grown rapidly and today while one of the youngest of such orders, it is one of the largest and most flourishing. The ritual was first read February 15, 1864, in Houghton, Mich. In 1868 the supreme lodge was organized; in 1894 it was incorporated. Today throughout the United States the grand lodge controls 51 jurisdictions, embracing a membership of more than half a million knights in every state and territory, Hawaii, Alaska, Cuba and the Philippines, British Columbia, throughout the Dominion of Canada.

GRANVILLE

THE HONOLULU CLUB ENJOYS A COON ROAST.

Shower Party for Mrs. Chas. Perrin—Last Meeting of Campaign Saturday Night.

Granville, O., Oct. 28.—A real coon roast supper was what a number of Granville and Newark people were privileged to partake of on Monday evening. While it is not known by everybody, there is a club in Granville known as the "Honolulu" club, composed of some of Granville's best known citizens, whose duty it is to partake of coon every once in awhile. The club is composed of an even dozen members and it generally requires two or three nice fat coons to feed them. For several days the members of the club had been smacking their lips in anticipation of the coming feast. Monday Mrs. Ransom was kept busy all day roasting coon, and if there is anybody who knows how to roast coon it is Mrs. Ransom. In the evening the members of the club met and partook of the palatable feast that had been prepared and all had a jolly time.

One of the pleasant social events of the past week was the "Shower" party for Mr. Charles Perrin and his bride, given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Ransom on Friday evening. There were about forty persons present and the newly wedded couple were the recipients of many handsome presents. Refreshments were served during the evening.

The last meeting of the campaign of the T. M. L. Johnson Democratic club will be held in the convention room of the town hall on Saturday evening of this week. Every member of the rallying committees of the several school districts is especially urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bert, of New York City, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beckel, returned home on Monday, having had a delightful visit.

BURGLARS' AID SOCIETY.

Chicago Organization Said to Mark Houses For Mutual Benefit.

The "Burglars' Aid association" is the unofficial title of an organized band believed to exist in the new city police precinct of Chicago. Discovery by the police that each member of this supposed alliance of housebreakers leaves written on his victims' homes characters of a secret code for the benefit and information of any other member who may seek to enter the same places was made recently in the course of an investigation of an attempted burglary at 3343 Justine street, says a Chicago dispatch.

Crosses, circles and the pictures of dogs, made by a knife, pencil or chalk, are believed by the police to be the principal characters of this strange code. In cases of arrests of persons suspected of having committed burglaries the police say that it is evident that the prisoners have powerful backing, and no money is spared by their friends to secure their release.

Beneath the windows there were crosses written with chalk and pencil. It was believed that these signs were made by the thieves, and investigation was made of other windows through which an attempt was made to gain entrance into the house a month ago. Beneath them were signs similar to those found in the rear.

The meaning of the mark, the police believe, is that no entrance can be obtained through the opening under which it appears. Beside the door leading into the house from the front porch the police found an arrow pointing toward the door. It was through this door that burglars entered the house two months ago. This arrow, in the opinion of the police, means that the way to enter is easy. Late, however, the sign failed to be of help, as the door was locked securely.

Above the door at 530 Justine street the picture of a large dog was found. It is believed to be a warning to beware of the bulldog allowed to run loose in the yard at nighttime.

NEW SIGNAL TOWER.

Uncle Sam to Have a Big Observatory on Staten Island.

The United States coast survey officials have begun the erection of a tower on Tod's hill, about 400 yards from the residence of David J. Tysen, the highest point on Staten Island, says the New York World. The tower will be seventy-five feet in height and will be capable of signaling with the government building in Manhattan. The ground has been cleared for the foundation.

The value of this particular spot as a lookout or signal station was known to the Aquebonga as well as other tribes of Indians prior to the advent of civilization in the new world. Within the memory of very old citizens of Staten Island there stood a giant oak tree near the spot now being prepared for the tower which the Indians used to signal with friends and, according to the custom of the aborigines, ascend to the highest possible point to petition the sun god to receive the spirit of a faithful departed warrior.

Take "Blood Wine."

Gus Rhulin, the Akron giant whose wonderful strength, and skill as an athlete has put him in the class with Fitzsimmons, Jeffries, Corbett, Sharkey, and others also, takes "Blood Wine," writes as follows:

NEW YORK, 86th St. and 13th Ave. "I, Gus Rhulin, have been greatly fatigued from over-training and have used 'Blood Wine' as a strengthener. It certainly is a remedy for the kidneys, liver, blood and nerves. On one occasion I had a pain in my back and found that after a few doses of 'Blood Wine' the pain entirely disappeared. A remedy that will remove pain so quickly in an athlete should be good for others. It has no equal."

GUS RULIN.

Dyker Heights, A. C.

Miss Belle Gordon, the famous champion woman athlete, says: "When my attention was first called to 'Blood Wine' I was greatly run down and almost on the verge of nervous prostration. Physicians prescribed for me, without relief, and not until I began to take 'Blood Wine' did I become myself again. I am now strong and vigorous, wouldn't be without 'Blood Wine'."

How Mrs. Jones Got a Seat

However crowded the car or boat may be, Mrs. Jones gets a seat, thanks to her three-year-old Gladys. This is the way it works:

Enter Mrs. Jones. All the seats occupied; women calmly indifferent; men buried behind newspapers.

Gladys—Mamma, mamma!

Mrs. Jones—Yes, dear.

Gladys—Where is your seat, mamma, and where's my seat?

Hands reappear above newspapers, while Mrs. Jones appears unconscious, and one of the rebuked men offers Mrs. Jones a seat, while his neighbor makes room for Gladys.

But the denouement came when Mr. Jones happened to be with his wife. Gladys piped her query about their seats.

"Hush, Gladys!" said Jones.

"But mamma told me to say that."

Then it was mother's turn to say "Hush!"—New York Times.

A CONFEDERATE PARK.

Movement in Mississippi to Transform Old Capitol Grounds.

State legislators in Mississippi have devised a novel plan of commemorating the southern Confederacy and the deeds performed by its soldiers in the civil war, says a New Orleans dispatch.

It is proposed to convert the old capitol grounds at Jackson into a Confederate park, where monuments and other memorials will be erected to the memory of those who fell in battle and assisted Mississippi in her effort to withdraw from the Union.

A bill will be introduced providing for the sale of one-half of the spacious grounds, a portion of which contains the handsome monument erected by the women of the state to the Confederate soldiers.

Pingpong's Successor.

"Hockey ball" is quite the latest product in the way of parlor games, says the London Chronicle. Its inventor claims that it will shortly sweep the world clear of all that remains of pingpong. The new game is suitable for either summer or winter, a great advantage being that it can be played sitting down by either four, six or eight players. Each of these has his own particular "court" to play in—the table is divided by tapes into as many courts as there are players—from which he endeavors to "pass" or to shoot goals. A neutral territory is provided, from which players can either pass to each other or endeavor to get the ball into their own courts, where intruders are not permitted. At each end of the table a goal is kept in the orthodox fashion, and the game is played with miniature hockey sticks, being, to all intents and purposes, table hockey.

FARMER SHOCK'S CLAIM

(Original)

Years ago when railroads were new and cattle guards were not perfected the R. C. and D. Railroad company received a bill from Farmer Aaron Shock for one brindle cow killed by a locomotive, the amount claimed being $25. The claim was duly made out and presented to the station agent.

Now, railroad companies are proverbially particular about their employees doing business expeditiously. Nevertheless while the R. C. and D.'s employees would have risked dismissal for not forwarding promptly any claim the company might have on others they would also risk dismissal for forwarding promptly any claim against the company. It must be admitted that the auditor was in no hurry in either receiving or paying the account for Farmer Shock's cow. The auditor no sooner laid eyes on the claim than it went into the pigeonhole where were kept those claims which it was not considered necessary to pay soon, if at all—in other words, from claimants without the ability to push them.

Farmer Shock, who fully expected to receive cash for his cow as soon as the president of the road should receive his bill, was much disappointed at the delay.

"Aaron," said his wife, "does them big city people pay bills unless they have to?"

"Waal, I reckon it don't make no difference. I can't make 'em."

"Mebbe you can."

"How?"

"Waal, there's no water they kin git hereabout to feed the tank at the station except from the creek that runs through our farm. You've often said you had a mind to cut away some dirt where the creek turns and let the water go down around the hills. Why don't you do it?"

Aaron scratched his head, then picked up a pick and a spade, and in a couple of hours the little stream was flowing in another channel.

The next day the station agent came up to the Shock farmhouse to find out what was the matter with the creek. When the change was discovered he told Farmer Shock that he would send a gang to turn the water back again, whereupon the farmer declared that if he did he would "shoot 'em for trespassin'."

The station agent reported the matter to headquarters. This time there was no delay in transmission. The water tank was useless without water, and engines must be fed from it. The attorney for the company was summoned and questioned as to the farmer's legal rights in turning the stream. The attorney returned to his office, hunted through a library of law books and reported that it was pretty hard to keep a man from doing what he liked on his own farm, but if the stream did not originate on the premises something might be done. A deadhead telegram was at once dispatched to the station agent for the information, who, after investigation, reported that the creek originated from a spring a mile from Shock's house, but on property owned by him.

By this time a number of engines had given out at the station for want of water and were sidetracked there.

The attorney for the company advised that a compromise be effected, but the president declared that he'd stop running trains before he would dicker with an ignorant countryman.

There was another tank at a station below the one near Farmer Shock's, and the president gave orders that the locomotives be provided with water to last till they reached this station.

By this time Farmer Shock had got wind of the fact that the source of the stream was an important matter, and he knew that the spring on his farm—a very copious spring—was the source of all streams crossing the railroad in that neighborhood. He concluded to see what he could do toward turning the water away from the last named station. Possessing a pasture through which ran the stream that fed the tank there, after examination he found that by damming he could give the stream a bend that would turn it into a small river which flowed near. The consequence was that one morning the creek at the second tank station was found dried up.

This settled it that Farmer Shock's claim should have attention. The auditor of the road was sent to see him, and, disclaiming any liability for the cow, which had no business to get in the way, offered the farmer 50 per cent of the claim, or $12.50 as a present. The farmer stuck to his bill of $25 and presented an additional bill of $150 for incidentals. When the auditor asked him to specify the items he said it was the work he had done in turning the streams from their natural channels.

This unheard of audacity in charging a railroad company for the means used in injuring it was too much for the auditor, who left the house in high dudgeon and reported to the president that he had found it impossible to treat with the unreasonable farmer.

A meeting of the directors was called and the matter laid before them, with the result of sending the attorney to the farmer with orders to settle the claim before returning. The attorney endeavored to show the farmer that in law he would have no case, but the farmer was too stupid to understand the point and stood by his demands, whereupon the attorney, who knew very well that the farmer could turn his own spring wherever he liked, provided those upon whose property he turned it did not object, drew on the company for $175, which he paid the farmer, who agreed to turn the water back again.

Their Records Tell the Story.

The appeal to Newark workingmen to vote for Mr. Gwynn, the Democratic candidate for Senator in this district, is meeting with great favor and having a decisive effect. The record of the two candidates on this subject is quite sufficient to convince voters. Mr. Gwynn has always been Labor's friend, but not for any political motive, because he has in no way been connected with politics previous to his present candidacy. Judge Overturf, the Republican candidate, who has always been a politician, has a record that should cause every workingman to vote against him. The records of the two candidates tell the story.

Having been Labor's friend as a business man and an employer, Mr. Gwynn can be counted on to be its friend in the Legislature.

LET NO DEMOCRAT FAIL TO VOTE

We cannot impress too often or too forcibly the necessity of getting out the full Democratic vote in Licking county on next Tuesday. The importance of this being done in any campaign cannot be exaggerated. As a general rule, whenever a party or its candidates are defeated in a campaign, it is not so much because certain candidates are scratched off the ticket as because a large number of voters stayed away from the polls and neglected to vote at all. Let no Democrat think that he should stay away from the polls this fall simply because he happens to be busy, or because this is not a national campaign. There are national issues to be decided in this campaign in the election or defeat of Mark Hanna, as well as in the success or defeat of the Republican party. To this end every vote for W. D. Benner for Representative, and for E. F. Gwynn for State Senator, is important to secure the defeat of Mark Hanna. Mr. W. N. Fulton, our excellent candidate for County Treasurer, is deserving the well merited endorsement of a second term to the office which he has so faithfully filled. Every other candidate on our county ticket is a new candidate, standing on his own character, and running on his own record. It is only justice that these candidates, who were nominated at a free and fair primary election, at which every Democrat in the county had a right to vote, should receive the solid vote of the Democratic party next Tuesday. Don't stay away from the polls, fellow Democrats. Don't fail to vote. It is your greatest privilege and your greatest duty. Licking county is a strong Democratic county when the will of the people is solidly expressed at the polls. Let it so be recorded next Tuesday.

JOHN H. CLARKE SPEAKS HERE NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT.

JOHN H. CLARKE.

Hon. John H. Clarke, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, will speak at Music Hall on Friday evening, October 30.

Newark's Interest in the Election of Commissioner.

According to the time-honored custom in Licking county, the city of Newark is entitled to one member of the Board of County Commissioners. The Republicans propose to violate this long established rule. There are now two members of the Board from the country and the Republican candidate for this year is also from the country, hence his election would deprive the City of Newark from any representation on the Board.

This is of special importance to Newark workingmen, taxpayers and citizens generally. Mr. Frank Showman, the Democratic candidate for Commissioner, lives in the city, and his election will promote Newark's best interests on the Board. Every Newark voter should see that he gets a large majority in the city next Tuesday.

ON THE DEFENSIVE.

In this campaign the Republicans have been on the defensive from the start, and they will still be on the defensive in the wind-up. They have had to defend all manner of things, too, including the curative steal, the unjust and oppressive system of taxation under Republican legislation, the discriminations against the farmer, the tradesman and the laborer and in favor of the wealthy corporation, the costly and idiotic municipal code, and a varied assortment of plundering and grafting besides.

In the beginning they seemed to be refreshed by standing up in behalf of the deliberate wrong-doing of their party, but they have long since wilted under the sledge-hammer blows of Johnson, Clarke and the other Democratic speakers.

Senator Hanna himself has been desperately worried over the way he has been brought up with a round turn by the Democrats, and it is even feared that he sometimes gives away to profanity when he retires to the privacy of his chamber and he has been telling some of his intimate friends that he never knew before how very long twenty-four hours were.

Herrick would be even more of a nonentity as governor than he is as a candidate for the office.

The farmer who votes for Herrick and Hanna this year should not complain because he is forced to pay double taxation.

Both Hanna and Roosevelt seem to have gotten into deep water in trying to deceive the workman and thus capture their votes.

It is a fact deserving special recognition that not one of the Republican spellbinders in Ohio has even remotely referred to the postoffice scandals.

Mark Hanna has been doing a great deal of begging and coaxing for the people to send him back to the senate. The sheet anchor of his hope, however, is hoode.

The duty of the good citizen, when he goes to the election to vote not for what will promote the selfish ends of himself, or any other man, but for what will promote the best interests of the greatest number of his fellow-citizens. And every good citizen, if he discharges his duty, will go to the polls on Tuesday, November 3, and aid in the promotion of the interests of the masses by voting the Democratic ticket.

The last Republican legislature mastered the art of legislative grafting. Should a Republican legislature be elected this year, all former legislative corruption would be totally eclipsed.

The speeches of Senator Hanna abound in personal abuse, vile names, gambling phrases and blasphemous prayer for divine help. Has he made one argument that would appeal to the calm, dispassionate mind of an intelligent voter?

Funny, isn't it, that if the people of Ohio should defeat Mark Hanna for the senate, that our whole system of prosperity would be destroyed. Suppose that he is elected and should then fall down and break his neck, we would be without a senator and prosperity both. The best method is to compromise the matter. Elect Clarke to the senate and take the chance of Hanna's defeat destroying prosperity. Both ends of the proposition would be safe.

TO RAILROAD MEN.

Two-Cent Fare Will Give More Employment and Raise Wages.

Senator Hanna, who has profound regard for working men (at this time) says that if the steam railroads were compelled by law to give two-cent fare the wages of the railroad men would be reduced. Michigan and New York have a two-cent law and the answer to his argument is in the wages paid in these two states, as compared with Ohio.

The figures show that Hanna's argument does not agree with the facts. The Michigan report gives definite information concerning wages paid each class of railroad employees. So does the Ohio report, except that it does not give the number of days worked in each class, although giving the days worked by all classes combined. To make the comparison it is necessary to take the total number of employees in each class, the total wages paid and thus show the average amount each class of employees received during the year.

The average rate per day, based on number of days worked, covering all employees, including general officers and clerks, was: In Ohio, $1.75 per day; in Michigan, $1.90 per day.

A two cent railroad fare not only benefits the general public by giving them cheaper transportation, but also the railroad employees, because a cheaper rate means more travel and thus more employment. A greater demand for railroad employees means better wages.

Your interests are identical with those of the whole people.

HERE ARE THE FACTS.

Bad Record of Last Republican Legislature.

WAS DOMINATED BY HANNA.

Killed Laws That Were For the Benefit of the People and Passed Bills in the Interest of Special Privilege and Monopoly — Corrupt Lobby Ruled the Assembly.

Here is the rotten record of the last Ohio Republican legislature:

Passed the Chamberlain bill, authorizing the consolidation of gas, electric light and street railway companies, thus making possible a monopoly of all municipal public service in each city.

Passed the curative act, with the "Cincinnati steal," which granted a franchise by the legislature to Boss Cox's Cincinnati street railway monopoly and other companies over the state whose franchises had previously been granted in an illegal manner and therefore were void.

Passed a law permitting one corporation to own stock in a kindred corporation, thus practically emasculating all anti-trust laws.

Passed a law abolishing county and city tax boards and placing all matters of local taxation in the hands of state officials. This was a direct blow at home rule and just taxation.

Killed the bill to compel the purchase of all supplies for public institutions by competitive bidding instead of allowing stewards an opportunity to pay twice the value of supplies and divide the amount out of which the state is defrauded with the contracting company.

Passed the Willis law, which unjustly discriminates against small Ohio companies in favor of rich Ohio corporations and permits foreign corporations operating in Ohio to escape scot free.

Killed the bill to extend the provisions of the Nichols tax law to the valuation of all public service corporations. This would have relieved the private competitive business corporations of the Willis tax and at the same time brought in more revenue to the state than is produced by the Willis tax on non-franchise using corporations.

Killed the bill which would have prevented fraud at primary elections. Killed the county salary bill and perpetuated the fee system, thus robbing the taxpayers of thousands of dollars annually.

Killed a bill to compel steam railroads to grant a universal two-cent rate, although the railroads now give two-cent rate to people who are rich enough to invest $30 in a mileage book with a $10 rebate.

"I WANT TO BE VINDICATED."

Hanna Says He Stands on His Record. A Record of Subsidy and Bribery.

In 1898 Hanna was elected to the United States senate by bold bribery. He was short just four votes and at the last moment four of his opponents changed their votes. They were J. E. Griffith of Marysville, Messrs. Lane, Voigt and Droste of Cincinnati.

Immediately after Hanna's election Lane was appointed United States consul to Smyrna, Asia Minor; Griffith was given a federal clerkship in the Indian Territory, and Voigt was appointed surveyor of the port of Cincinnati, and Droste, who had been a poor man, became suddenly wealthy.

In addition to these the following were given federal jobs for voting for Hanna: H. J. May, Canton, paymaster United States navy; J. J. Sullivan, United States district attorney; Martin Dodge, Cleveland, member United States good roads commission; P. M. Ashford, Sabineville, O., United States attorney, Washington, D. C.; Chas. E. Bowman, auditor postoffice, Cleveland (job created for him); Evan H. Davis, United States interior department; C. W. Parker, Lieutenant United States army; J. W. Hill, London department revenue collector; A. J. McCormick, Pomeroy, attorney to United States bank receiver, southern district of Ohio; Josiah Allen, job of pension agent at Columbus for his father-in-law; A. M. Griffith, consul to Mexico.

Hanna thus got into the senate by bribery and his principal work as senator has been for the ship subsidy bill. Is that a record that deserves vindication?

Your Health Depends on Your Kidneys

Every Reader Should Test the Wonderful Merits of this Great New Discovery

IRVING'S BUCHU WAFERS

If you wish to be rich in health, you should be careful of your KIDNEYS as a good financier is of his cash capital. Your KIDNEYS are your capital. Your health depends principally on them. If you keep THEM well you may possess your health in safety. Now by this is not meant that good financing for your health is to overlook all the other organs and merely look after your KIDNEYS. Your other organs may need care, but your KIDNEYS most because they do most. If you are sick begin with your KIDNEYS, because just as soon as they are well, they will help all the other organs to health.

For a great many years it has been the custom for people to say: "My Blood is out of order, it needs purifying, I feel all used up, my skin needs clearing, my Brain feels tired." They are right, but do they act right? They generally go and get a laxative to purify their blood; but does blood run through the bowels?

Science proves that all the purifying that your blood needs, in fact all that can be done, must be done by your KIDNEYS. The KIDNEYS are filters. They strain and purify your blood. When your blood is impure nothing can purify but your KIDNEYS. When the KIDNEYS are clogged from overwork of any kind, worry, exposure or excesses, they can be set right by that wonderful new remedy known as IRVING'S BUCHU WAFERS. They are a small wafer and pleasant to take. They are not a patent medicine or secret remedy, and the formula is cheerfully furnished to the numerous physicians who prescribe them in their practice, recognizing the efficiency of their ingredients, such as Buchu, Juniper Berries, Asparagus, and other valuable and purely vegetable extracts, which are so concentrated as to make them more than double their value.

FOOTBALL

Barracks Team From Columbus Will Play Here Next Saturday Against the Y. M. C. A. Boys.

The strong football eleven representing the Newark Y. M. C. A. will have its hands full next Saturday afternoon when the team meets the Barracks eleven of Columbus.

The soldiers are very strong this year, and play a fast aggressive game, which will test the local team's defensive work to the utmost. In view of the hard game it behooves every member of the team to be on hand to practice for Saturday's game, as the weak point in the local team's play is a lack of variety in their attack. This can only be remedied by the players rallying about Coach Dille and getting the training along this line which he can give them.

The Barracks team has two men belonged to the football squad at West Point, and they materially strengthen the soldiers.

RHEUMATISM AN INDESCRIBABLE TORTURE

Because Rheumatism sometimes comes on suddenly it doesn't prove that it is a chance disease or one due to accidental causes. It takes time for it to develop, and is at work in the system long before any symptoms are felt. The blood is the first point of attack, and the poisonous acids that cause the aches and pains are then distributed through the circulation to different parts of the system, and settle in joints, muscles and nerves; and when the system is in this condition it needs only some exciting cause like exposure to night air, damp, chilly weather, or the cold, bleak winds of winter, to arouse the slumbering poisons and bring on Rheumatism. The severity of the attack depends upon the amount of acid in the blood and the quantity of acid matter in the joints and muscles. Some people are almost helpless from the first, while others have occasional spells or are uncomfortable, restless, nervous and half sick all the time from the nagging aches and pains. Rheumatism is a disagreeable companion even in its mildest form. It grows worse as we grow older, and frequently stiffens the joints, draws the muscles out of shape and breaks down the nervous system. A disease that originates in the blood, as Rheumatism does, cannot be cured with external remedies like liniments and plasters; such things scatter the pains or drive them to some other part of the body, but do not touch the disease or improve the condition of the blood. The thin acid blood must be restored to its normal purity and strength, so that all poisonous substances may be carried out of the system, and no medicine accomplishes this in so short a time as S.S.S., which not only neutralizes the acids and counteracts the poisons, but builds up the general health at the same time.

RHEUMATISM IN ELBOWS, WRISTS AND KNEES.
Urbana, Ohio, Aug. 25, 1903.
Last winter I had a severe attack of Rheumatism. It started in the right elbow, and from there to my wrist; the right wrist was the worst. It became swollen and extremely painful. My left knee joint was the next place to be attacked. It became swollen and of course painful. The next point to be affected was the hip and ankle, which gave me much trouble. I was barely able to get about for some time. I was under treatment of a physician for awhile, but getting no better I began S.S.S., and after taking it for some time I was entirely relieved of the Rheumatism. All swelling and soreness disappeared. I consider S.S.S. an excellent remedy for Rheumatism and all troubles having their origin in the blood.

PATHETIC STORY
Told By Young Woman to Judge Irvine--Mock Marriage In This City--It Developed Miller Had Family Living in New Jersey.

A pathetic story was told Probate Judge Irvine by a woman who calls herself Rosa Miller, and who said her parents' name was McQuecke, and that she formerly lived in Columbus. She said her whole life had been wrecked by a man's perfidy.
According to her story a man known to her as John F. Miller met and won her affections at Columbus. She had the utmost confidence in the man, and when he suggested that they come to Newark and be married first and then return to Columbus to be married by a priest the young lady being a Catholic, she agreed.
On August 16, 1902 they came to this city, where a marriage license was issued, and they went to the parlors of the Warden, where a form of ceremony was gone through with before a person whom she says Miller represented as being a justice of the peace of this city named Keating, and the ceremony was witnessed by a number of persons whom Miller claimed were friends of his but whom she did not know.
After the ceremony they took dinner at the Warden, and then went to Columbus, where for some reason, which the girl did not give, the religious ceremony was not performed, but the two went to the bride's home, where they lived for some time. Later he went to Europe on business, and since then they have been separated.
The man, from the time they were married, she claims, did little or nothing toward supporting her. After his departure Mrs. Miller, as she called herself, went to New York, where she secured a position as bookkeeper in a big establishment, which position she now holds.
While there she says she received a letter from a woman alleging that the man Miller, whom she supposed to be her husband, had been married before going through the ceremony with Miss McQuecke, and has several children in Lynn, Mass.
Mrs. Miller, or Miss McQuecke, claimed further that when Miller returned from Europe she met him and charged him with his falseness, and he acknowledged that he was not married, but that the ceremony was a fraud. He is now at Newark, N. J., she says.
There has been no return of the marriage by the person officiating, and there is no justice of the peace in Newark or Licking county of the name given by her. She identified the signature on the license record as being in the handwriting of Miller. The girl said her father's name is Frank McQuecke.
The girl is prepossessing in appearance. She says she is a graduate of the Columbus Business college and has a good education.

GREAT SHETLAND FARM
LOCATED AT TOLEDO.

AMERICAN SHETLAND PONIES.

Toledo, Oct. 28.—Raising Shetland ponies is the "fad" of Frank G. Thompson, banker, real estate dealer and broker. The second largest herd of these diminutive specimens of the equine race in the United States is quartered on his Lucas county farm, which is not a great distance from the Ketcham farm, where Crescens is king.
Something about the climate of North America makes the Shetland grow larger with each succeeding generation, and to keep the size down it is necessary to make frequent importations of brood stock from the Shetland islands.
The demand for ponies is so great, and the visible supply so small, that the price has gone upwards in bounds until it takes as much money to buy a good Shetland pony as it does to buy a good horse—say $100 to $150. As for buying good stallions and brood mares, that is practically impossible, as the breeders refuse absolutely to part with their good matrons and masters.
There are on the Thompson farm about 150 ponies, not one of which is for sale. Thompson aspires to own the largest herd in the world, and not only is he keeping his stock for breeding purposes, but is constantly making additions to it.
The head of the Thompson herd is Nabob, much prized because of his perfect marking, and Imp, a coal black stallion.
The well bred Shetland has the hardiness and endurance of a horse, and, frequently, greater intelligence and usually greater docility. His temper is more even, too; he is as loyal as a dog and is mute under punishment. In breeding Shetlands the object is to get a perfect little "big horse" and some of the best are vest pocket editions of the mammoth percherons, which, odd-ly enough, have their native habitat not far from where the Shetlands come from.
Above all and everything there must be no suspicion of delicacy about the pony, and if he is up to the standard of judgment used on the "big horse" he is considered all right. If he is marked like a circus horse he is all the better.

For some time two teams have been engaged in getting applications with the result that a large class of candidates presented themselves for initiation into the order, and took out memberships in Licking aerie.
The work team of Newark Aerie, which is considered one of the best, although one of the youngest in Ohio put on the work, which was done in the same manner that has made former initiations a great success.
On Tuesday night 53 new members were received, 49 being on application, and four by card.
After the ceremonies a social session was held, which was thoroughly enjoyed by every one of the large number present. A fine banquet was served by the social session committee, of which Mr. George Hamilton is chairman.
The growth of Licking Aerie has been remarkable and in the few short months of its existence, has increased its membership from 98, when it was instituted, to 256 at the present time, and it is now one of the most flourishing of Newark fraternal beneficiary societies.

CAUGHT
LOCAL PIANO DEALER DID IT.

A. E. Smith Discovers Who Paid for The Advertisement Signed by Geo. Land, Which Appeared in the Newspapers on Saturday last

Two weeks ago I shipped a nice stock of upright pianos here and advertised them for sale. Saturday there appeared a notice in both newspapers of this city signed by Geo. Land, who stated that I was misleading the public when I said I sold 15 instruments in my last year's sale. Following are the names of the customers who purchased last year.
Cora Wells.
Mahala Stoner.
W. T. Darnell.

John Lannigan.
A. J. Rossin.
Leroy Duthheimer.
J. S. Stinekemper.
L. Martin.
Jos. Moser.
Frank Barnes.
You see there are 17 instead of 15 of them who signed up and had their instruments delivered. These names appear on our journal and are in the printed list of 700 sales which I published in the Akron Beacon Journal, Jan. 19, 1902, as having bought during the year 1902, of myself and stores.
This morning I started out to find who was paying for the "advertising" Mr. Land had given me. Accompanied by a friend, I visited one newspaper office, where I discovered Mr. Land had appeared and paid for the advertisement out of a linen bag that he kept his money in. At the other office I found that the advertisement had been furnished by a piano dealer of this city.
I then interviewed Mr. Land, who stated that he had expected my work, having tried to please me last year. Being disappointed he went into Rawlings' store and made the statement that he did, which Mr. Rawlings asked him to sign. Not realizing what he was doing he did so.
Now reader, this advertisement charged me with grossly misrepresenting and was very adroitly written.
I stated that we had sold 15 sales. It appears we sold 17.
How much better it would have looked had Mr. Rawlings come out in the day light and challenged me with wilfully misrepresenting, as I accuse him in the open of instigating this entire plot to keep the Newark public from my piano sale.

WIFE CAUTIONED HIM

But a Moment Later Mr. Geisick Stumbled and Gun Went Off Killing Him Instantly—Prominent Farmer's Tragic Death.

Dr. C. F. Legge, coroner of Licking county, went to the home of Frank Geisick, a mile and a half southeast of Summit Station, late Tuesday afternoon, where he viewed the remains of Frank Geisick, who was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of a shot gun in his own hands, as exclusively wired to The Advocate from Palaskala a half hour after the occurrence, Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Legge brought further particulars of the sad accident, which is deeply deplored in the community, where Mr. Geisick was one of the wealthiest and most highly respected citizens.

An old family horse which had outlived its usefulness was to be put out of its misery, and for this purpose Mr. Geisick decided to shoot it. He went upstairs and secured his gun, a remarkable weapon for this part of the country, to shoot the animal. The gun is a three-barreled one, two barrels being like an ordinary shot gun, while the third, lying underneath the other two, discharges a large caliber rifle bullet.

Mr. Geisick returned with the gun, and as he left the house, his wife cautioned him to be careful. He went to a woodshed about 10 feet from the back porch and went inside, and the next thing heard was a shot. When help arrived Mr. Geisick was found on the floor, dead, the top of his head having been literally blown off by a load of shot.

The floor of the woodshed was littered with billets of stove wood, and it is the unanimous opinion of every one who was acquainted with the surroundings that the unfortunate man stepped on one of these pieces of wood which turned under him, and caused the gun to be discharged.

Dr. Legge took the testimony of witnesses and will render a verdict in accordance with the facts adduced.

Since Mr. Geisick's death, many neighbors recall the fact that he has been greatly worried for some time over a suit filed against him for $300 by a neighbor, whose horse had been killed by a bull belonging to the dead man. It has been suggested that the unfortunate man's mind had become morbid, but the idea that this fact could have had any bearing on the accident is believed by no one conversant with the facts and surroundings.

Mr. Geisick was forty-five years of age and leaves a wife and eight children. He was in every way a model citizen and there is universal sorrow over his untimely death.

The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the late home.

Unique Banquet Served In Waterloo, Iowa.

Why Waterloo Needed The Sewer.

Construction Of The Sewer.

Des Moines, Oct. 23.—Imagine a brilliantly lighted banquet room with more than 300 guests seated at an exquisitely decorated table groaning with good things, an array of speakers roared among the most prominent in the United States, handsome women attired in costly evening gowns, drinking to the health of a mayor and his people, and a full orchestra discoursing popular music as the choice viands are discussed.

Then imagine such revelry, such a display of wealth, such brilliance and music emanating from a sewer beneath the earth's surface, and a fair conception may be had of the Dry Run sewer banquet held at Waterloo, Iowa.

Officials, 150 of them from the largest cities in Iowa: Mayor Carter Harrison of Chicago; "Golden Rule" Jones, of Toledo, and Governor Cummins, of Iowa, were guests at this unique banquet, held in one of the largest pieces of city engineering ever undertaken in the West.

The idea was that of Mayor Martin, who entertained the Iowa League of Municipalities at his home in Waterloo. The great sewer has been in progress for some months and was made necessary because of an incessant overflow of Dry Run creek, which a number of times in recent years has done great damage to business properties in Waterloo.

When it became known that the League of Municipalities was to meet in his city, Mayor Martin conceived the sewer banquet.

The great drainage pipe, sufficiently large to comfortably hold a small army of men, is 4,000 feet long and 14 1/2 feet in diameter. The exterior measurement is 18x18 feet. Tables prepared especially for the banquet reached 400 feet in length.

One has but to stop and consider the amount of material used in the construction of the sewer to appreciate its size. Figures more clearly define its enormity:

Length of sewer, 4,000 feet.
Height of arch inside, 14 feet.
Width of arch inside, 14 feet.
Cubic yards concrete work, 15,000.
Barrels of cement used, 17,000.
Weight per barrel, 335 pounds.
Total number pounds concrete, 5,725,000.

Entrance to the unique proposed banquet room was made by stairway leading from the street to the subterranean passage.

AN ODD AFFILIATION

(Original.)

Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey were a very happy couple. There was but one thing to be desired—a mutual friend who would come in in the evening and chat with them. They had plenty of acquaintances, but no one to be intimate with. Mrs. Ramsey asked her husband to get one of his men friends to come and dine with them, but Dick Ramsey was a man of the world who knew when his matrimonial affairs were in good condition and preferred to let well enough alone. Not that he didn't trust his wife implicitly. He simply didn't propose to go out of his way to bring about complications.

One evening while the Ramseys were "out" Mrs. Ramsey was introduced to a widow with whom she fell desperately in love at first sight.

"Oh, Dick!" she said. "I've met the loveliest woman in the world. She's taken the third house from us up the street. I'm going to call on her, and she's promised to come in often, play whist, pingpong, anything we like. We'll have a delightful winter."

"That's very nice. Is dinner ready?"

"Just like a man—no enthusiasm about anything except something to eat!" replied the wife, disappointed.

Mrs. Ramsey called on the widow, and within a week the widow returned the call. Then Mrs. Ramsey invited her to come in to spend an evening. She made herself very agreeable; indeed she professed all the friendliness that could be desired. When she was ready to go home Mr. Ramsey escorted her.

The widow invited the Ramseys to make her an evening visit: to play whist and had a gentleman in to make up the set. The gentleman was to play with Mrs. Ramsey, and he did. He tried hard to make himself agreeable to her, but Mrs. Ramsey didn't care for his attentions. However, when the widow took Mr. Ramsey off to her aviary to show him her birds the wife was obliged to content herself with the stranger.

The situation about Christmas time was this:

The widow was very much with Mr. Ramsey. The affiliation between the three was the talk of the town. A relative of Mrs. Ramsey was bold enough to speak to her about the matter, and the wife declared that she was perfectly at ease as to the intimacy between her husband and the widow.

However, Mrs. Ramsey grew nervous, excitable, pale, and when alone had a troubled look on her face. The truth is, she hated the widow as bitterly as she had loved her. But the more she hated her the more she raved about her beauty, her wit, her humor or her many attractive ways. No one dared speak against the widow in Mrs. Ramsey's presence, and whenever the husband and the mutual friend were most together the wife seemed most called upon to sound her rival's praises.

As for Dick Ramsey, he was one of those imperturbable, reticent fellows who keep their own counsel. He never spoke of the widow in company, leaving Mrs. Ramsey to sound sufficient praises for both. Seeing that his wife's health was becoming impaired, he proposed a sea trip to Cuba. Mrs. Ramsey yielded, then astonished her husband by inviting the widow to be of the party. The widow accepted, suggesting that it would be pleasant to take along the gentleman who had played whist with them. But Mrs. Ramsey declined to invite him.

Mr. Ramsey, though surprised at this move of his wife, made no comment. However, during the voyage he managed matters so that Mrs. Ramsey was not left alone; the three were constantly together.

When the party returned, Mrs. Ramsey was no better. Indeed, she was worse. She declined to own that she was ill, and to speak to her on the subject of her health was as dangerous as to deride the rival in her presence. The thinner, more wan Mrs. Ramsey became the heartier grew the widow. Evil disposed persons said that the widow was a vampire drawing the lifeblood from the wife whose husband she was drawing at the same time. At Easter Mrs. Ramsey was little more than skin and bone. Her husband was very anxious about her and asked his doctor what he should do.

"Take her on a trip."

"I've done that."

"Do it again, and this time go with her alone."

Ramsey went to his wife and told her that he was making arrangements to take her to Europe. She consented, but the same evening Ramsey saw a note on his wife's dressing case addressed to the widow. At the same moment his wife came in.

"Marry," he said, "I don't want to pry into your affairs, but does that note contain an invitation to that cursed woman to join us on this trip?"

"Cursed woman?"

"Yes. Ever since you became infatuated with her last autumn she has been the bane of my existence. She has palavered over me, and I, not daring to give you my opinion of her, have withstood her constant efforts to get me into her clutches. I can stand it no longer. You are ill, and I believe the woman's influence over you has something to do with your illness. I beseech you to go alone with me and get rid of her."

While Dick Ramsey was speaking his wife stood looking at him in astonishment. When he had concluded she sank into a chair with a deep drawn sigh.

"Oh, Dick, why didn't you tell me before? I thought she had taken you away from me."

The trip was abandoned, since there was no necessity for it.

Bowser's New Role

He Acts as Adviser and Tries His Best to Help the Corner Druggist Along

(Copyright, 1933, by C. B. Lewis.)

MR. BOWSER has no regular set programme with his grocer or butcher or coal man, nor has he any set policy with the cobbler who builds up his shoes at intervals or the street peddlers who shout their wares over his front gate. It is only with his family druggist that he holds to programme and policy. He began it fifteen years ago and is sticking right to it yet.

There have been several changes of family druggists, but no change in Mr. Bowser. When the old druggist vacates the corner store and a new one takes his place, Mr. Bowser is on hand among the first callers. He isn't there to have a prescription filled or to invest in a hot water bag, but to give a little friendly advice. A dozen grocers may come and go and he gives them no heed, but with the family druggist the case is different.

"My name," begins Mr. Bowser as he enters the store, "is Bowser. I live around the corner and half way down the block. Although I have only a small family, I am a liberal patron of drug stores, and I always pay cash. You know your business as a druggist, do you?"

"SIR, YOU HAVE A DRUG STORE HERE."

"I think I do," is the reply as the druggist comes up.

"That is well. This is no corner for a druggist who has only half learned his business. You have come into a new neighborhood. Success or failure will depend upon your personality. Always greet every caller with a smile of welcome. Don't take any part in politics and don't become a fixture at any particular church. Stand neutral between capital and labor and don't have any family rows to cause gossip. I am advising you as a friend who has your interests at heart and therefore speak plainly and to the point. I am in a hurry this morning, but will call again soon and give you further pointers. Meanwhile think over and profit by what I have already said."

The family druggist is generally a man who sizes up human nature pretty closely, and he decides to bear with Mr. Bowser. That's the beginning of it, and the end only comes when the poor man dies or finds some one to buy him out. Mr. Bowser at once becomes a sort of guardian and partner of that drug store. When he isn't playing guardian and partner he is making himself a nuisance, and one that nothing can abate. The interest he exhibits in stock and sales couldn't be greater if he had $10,000 of his own money invested.

"Sir," exclaims Mr. Bowser as he advances upon the man of drugs and walks on his toes and shakes a finger under his nose, "you have got a drug store here, but what is a drug store without patronage? I am giving you my countenance and support, and through me you are getting the patronage of this neighborhood. If you want me to withdraw, if you want me to take my custom elsewhere."

That settles the family druggist, and he decides that it is better to bear the fits he has than to be thrown out of business. He therefore forces a smile to his face and replies:

"You mustn't take what I said so seriously. I have depended upon your friendly interest and advice right along, and I shall continue to do so."

"Then don't virtually tell me that this or that is none of my business," "I surely didn't intend to. The au-

THE KARMA OF LABOR.

Review of the Poems and Sketch of the Author by Ella Ormsby.

[Special Correspondence.]

"The Karma of Labor," the new book of poems by Frank Keyes Foster, is a stirring written book, written in the stirring historic atmosphere of Boston. Mr. Foster gets a good perspective because of a comprehensive grasp of history and of the general principles of evolution which sometimes distinguish true literature, dealing with social conditions, from the childish fancies which we find dull.

"The Karma of Labor" traces laborers from "pregnatorial brute" through painful sacrificial toiling for despots, with no glimmer of a lurking destiny sublime. Only barren bearers with backs mutely bowed.

until this time, when

Chained to new giants, a mine and workshop's trail,

Deep murmuring for share of birthright

First insight that large life should be for all.

In rounding cycles sweeps the world along. Dull labor's karma rises on concentric lines.

And ancient hidden rhythm swells in joyful song

As sturdy brawn with brain its force inclines.

The following words show how high trades union ideals are above those of a ruler who with clinched fists and open mouth cultivates the war spirit in the big boys:

The world's great victories are not won With far flung battle lines of lightning men.

What are the world's great victories? The fields where ancient superstition falls. The wider knowledge won from age to age.

The saner thought which guides the ship of state To plow seas, which quells the hate of race And bids the bigotry of creed to cease Its fatuous tyranny o'er the minds of men.

There are angry words for the abuse of injunction, closing:

The old Bay State's first flag Once more the people see, With its close coiled serpent Hissing, "Don't tread on me!"

But to an enthusiast this trades unionist says:

Force the barricades? What then? What motto is being over? Here or there You are yourself, and being so, Not having grip of things, but only thirst for change.

You'll find the boggy, as ever, in your way.

In reply to a pessimist:

Come I to you, my brothers; come I to you with cheer, To sing in your ears responsive a song not born of fear.

A song that shall nerve the timid and inspire the already brave.

For the truth I seek and the words I speak Hath power to help and save.

I sing no song, my brothers, of the cynics' woeful wall.

But rather the martial anthem never yet known to fall

To stir the quickening pulses to a nobler aim and strife

For more of beauty, of faith and duty To gem the crown of life.

For Henry George there is this:

Not for a class he wrought With gift of tongue and pen. With higher mission fraught, He lived—and died—for men!

I found these poems so interesting that I wrote the author for some material about his life. He replied: "My life sketch may be drawn in neutral tints. Born in Palmer, Mass., ever so many years ago; learned printer's trade in Hartford; worked in various cities; been in Boston mostly since 1876; member of typographical union since 1875. I was secretary of old Federation of Trades and Labor Unions of United States and Canada in 1883; chairman of legislative committee Massachusetts American Federation of Labor for six years and at present; publisher of labor journals for seventeen years; lectured on labor in twenty-four states and chronically in this state. That's about all."

Mr. Foster is on the special committee for direct legislation which last winter obtained a concession in the shape of a partial constitutional initiative for constitutional amendments. He adds in response to inquiry, "We shall continue the fight for D. L. this season."

He is the author of several essays read before various associations. His "Trades Union Ideals" has great literary and ethical value, and he is the author of a romance, "The Evolution of a Trades Unionist."

Fixing the Maximum Output.

Inquiries lead us to believe that there are trades unions which fix a maximum amount of product and that members are not allowed to produce more than this maximum. Two grounds are alleged in justification for this practice—first, that it prevents hurried, careless and imperfect work; second, that it prevents employers from hiring some abnormally expert workman and making him a standard to whom all others are unreasonably expected to conform under penalty of a fine or a reduction of the wage. We suspect a third reason is still more effective—namely, that as the trust sometimes reduces the output of the product in order to raise the price of the article so the workmen sometimes reduce the output of the product in order to raise the price of labor. Such an attempt to create an artificial price by producing artificial conditions is as just in the one case as in the other and no more so.

—Outlook.

Strikes in Massachusetts.

In his annual report to the recent state convention of the Federation of Labor of Massachusetts James R. Crozier, the president, said that the total number of strikes in Massachusetts was 231, the greater number for higher wages and a shorter workday. Of the strikes 94 were successful, 44 were compromised, 92 failed, 5 are still pending, and in 22 cases the result was not made known.

His Experience.

"Here's a conundrum for you," said the funny man. "What's the difference between a man and his family?"

"It's invariably a difference of opinion," replied Henpeck. —Philadelphia Ledger

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and are obtained quickly by proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Child Labor and Pauperism.

We may trace a connection between child labor and pauperism not only for the child and his own family, bringing on premature old age and laying aside able-bodied men and women in the noontide of their years, but also the grievous charge is true that it pauperizes the community itself. I should also add that it debauches our moral sentiment, it confuses our sense of values, so that we learn to think that a bale of cheap cotton is more to be prized than a child properly nourished, educated and prepared to take his place in life. Let us stand up to the obligations of our own age. Let us watch that we do not discount the future and cripple the next generation because we were too indolent, I was going to say because we were too dull, to see all that it involves when we use the labor of little children.—June Addams.

ANOTHER BIG AUDIENCE

At Taylor Hall Last Evening—Beardsley's Second Lecture.

Beardsley's second illustrated lecture at the Y. M. C. A. hall last evening was well attended. The lower part of the house was crowded. It was an intelligent audience.

The subject was "Food and Digestion" and Dr. Beardsley proceeded to demonstrate that a meal for a half dozen persons can be properly cooked without any thought or care after being placed over the fire. This he did in an hour and fifteen minutes, while giving a most practical illustrated talk on the subject of proper preparation of our food—showing what foods are most nutritious and beneficial for different people. The process of digestion was traced and many valuable and useful suggestions dropped, with amusing illustrations to enforce the salient points of the lecture.

Before the dinner was served a large number of brilliant stereopticon pictures were exhibited. The pictures were very fine and they were thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. Another illustrated lecture and entertainment will be given tonight.

VETERANS

Of Three Wars Were Royally Entertained by G. A. R. Members on Tuesday Evening.

The veterans of the wars of '65 and the Spanish war, together with two or three survivors of the war with Mexico, and several soldiers who served in the confederate army, were royally entertained by the members of Lemert Post, No. 71, G. A. R., on Tuesday evening, at Memorial Hall. The meeting was presided over by Col. Campbell, and there were about one hundred persons present.

Gingerbread and sweet cider formed the attractions for the inner man, to which were added some fine music and appropriate addresses. Speeches were made by Col. Chas. H. Kibler, of this city, Newton Hull, of the old Twelfth regiment, and others. Grif. Rosebrough sang some of his inimitable songs and Dr. Alexander and William Laird furnished some fine instrumental music. The evening was a very enjoyable one.

FUNERAL

Of Mrs. Lydia Coulter Will Take Place Next Sunday at Ellis Chapel.

Granville, O., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Lydia E. Coulter, who died at her home in this place so suddenly on Tuesday morning, as briefly told in yesterday's Advocate, was the widow of the late P. F. Coulter, at one time one of the most prominent farmers of Franklin township. The deceased was a daughter of Jesse and Agnes Dodd, and was born in Brownsville, Licking county, in 1828, where she was raised. She was married to Mr. Coulter on May 13, 1851, and had been a member of the M. E. church in Franklin township for many years. The funeral will take place from the home of her son-in-law, Amos B. Groves, on the Linville road, about one mile south of Newark, on Sunday, October 30, at 10 o'clock a. m., the services being conducted by the Rev. J. E. Roudsill, of Columbus. The interment will be made at Ellis' Chapel cemetery, Franklin township, by the side of her husband. The deceased would have been 75 years old on the day she will be buried, Friday, and her daughters had been making preparations to celebrate the event. Rev. Mr. Roudsill, who is to officiate at the funeral, married a niece of the deceased, who was to have been present at the anniversary.

THE RAILWAYS

YOUNG MAN A TOP NOTCHER IN RAILROAD WORLD.

Rapid Rise of Benj. P. Winchell—Budge of Local and General Railway News of the Day.

(Special to Advocate)

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 28.—The appointment of Benj. P. Winchell as third vice president of the combined Rock Island-Frisco systems, stands out as a forcible example of the possibilities in the power of a man who applies intelligently his abilities to the work given him to do.

A few years ago Mr. Winchell was just a clerk in the office of the superintendent of the Hannibal & St. Joseph road, at Hannibal. From that place he went to Atchison as clerk in the office of the general passenger agent of the Joy lines, and later to the Memphis route, where in Kansas City he served as chief clerk. In 1895 Mr. Winchell resigned from the Memphis system to become general passenger agent of the Colorado & Southern, and was stationed at Denver. In 1898, Mr. Winchell came back to Missouri to work for the Frisco as general passenger agent, but in a short time was called again to the Colorado & Southern as vice president and traffic manager, which position he held until September of 1901, when he was selected as president of the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis, and remained so until the merging of that system and the Frisco, when he became president and general manager of the combined roads.

The latest honor which has been heaped upon Mr. Winchell is regarded as almost phenomenal, even in railroad circles, where rapid rises are the order of the day.
